Good evening Daughters, family and friends,

Welcome to our third stay-at-home ball. It is truly an honor and my pleasure to greet and share with you in this celebratory event this evening. Today, we are living in some different and trying times, but with God on our side we are pressing on, moving forward and overcoming any obstacles placed in front of us. The world has been shut down for quite a while and we have moved into a more virtual environment. Nonetheless, it has not stopped us. So tonight, we fellowship together in this ball in the comfort of our own homes. I cannot express how thrilled I am that you felt it not robbery to be here tonight.

I humbly thank each and every one of you who have supported me and Mecca Court No. 2 this year. You all have made my heart glad. Please sit back, relax and enjoy the evening.

The background of the image is a vibrant, stylized illustration of an Egyptian desert landscape. On the left, a large, golden-yellow pyramid rises against a clear blue sky. In the foreground, a blue river flows from the bottom left towards the center, bordered by green palm trees and bushes. On the right, another smaller pyramid is visible in the distance. The entire scene is framed by a decorative scroll with ornate wooden rollers at the top and bottom. The scroll itself has a light beige, parchment-like texture and is bordered by a red and black geometric pattern.

A portrait of Daryl S. Dowleyne, a man with a friendly expression, wearing a grey pinstripe suit, a white bow tie, and a red and gold Egyptian-style headdress. The headdress features the word "MECCA" and "10" and "FIRST IMP. POTENTATE". He is also wearing a colorful beaded necklace and a white pocket square. The background is a desert scene with the Great Pyramids of Giza and a camel rider in the distance. To the right of the man is a large, ornate key and a circular emblem featuring a sphinx and a star.
